Answer the following questions in the Question Paper. Questions are printed here for reference only.

- (a) Explain what is meant by the term 'accumulated fund'. [2]
- (b) Calculate the accumulated fund at 1 April 2018. [3]

Additional information

The annual subscription has been unchanged for the past few years. During the year ended 31 March 2019, a total of $13 900 was received from 278 members who paid their annual subscription in full. One member, who owed the club for the previous year's subscription, was unable to pay and this amount was written off.

At 31 March 2019, six members had not paid their annual subscription and one member had paid the following year's subscription in advance.

- (c) Prepare the subscriptions account for the year ended 31 March 2019. [8]
- (d) Prepare an extract from the statement of financial position at 31 March 2019 to show how the balances on the subscriptions account are recorded. [4]

Additional information

The annual surplus of income over expenditure has fallen steadily in recent years.

The treasurer is considering introducing a life membership scheme to improve this. He believes that the total life membership should be recorded in full as income in the income and expenditure account when it is received.

- (e) Discuss two ways other than a life membership scheme by which the club could increase the future annual surplus. [4]
- (f) Discuss if the treasurer's proposed accounting treatment for life membership is correct. Justify your answer by reference to any relevant accounting concept. [4]

	$	$	$	$	$
Cost	400 000
Annual receipts		390 000	420 000	460 000	370 000
Annual payments		280 000	280 000	270 000	250 000

The machine has a useful life of 4 years with no residual value. It will be depreciated using the straight-line method.

Answer the following questions in the Question Paper. Questions are printed here for reference only.

(a) Calculate the accounting rate of return (ARR) of Machine X. [5]

(b) State two advantages and two disadvantages of using ARR. [4]

Additional information

P Limited's cost of capital is 10%.

The following are the discount factors for 10%.

Year 1	0.909
Year 2	0.826
Year 3	0.751
Year 4	0.683

(c) Calculate the net present value (NPV) of Machine X. [5]

Additional information

P Limited requires an internal rate of return (IRR) of 13% on any capital investment.

If a discount factor of 16% is used, Machine X will have a negative NPV of $13 130.

(d) Calculate the IRR of Machine X. [3]

Additional information

A similar machine, Machine Y, is available. It also has a useful life of 4 years. The following information for Machine Y is available.

Initial cost	$480 000
NPV	$33 200
ARR	25%
IRR	13.5%

(e) Advise the directors of P Limited which machine they should buy. Justify your answer. [5]

Additional information

The directors are also considering buying another machine, Machine Z, at a cost of $110 000. This will be used to produce another product which has an expected life of 3 years. The annual receipts from the sale of the product will be $100 000. Annual payments will be $45 000. This will remain constant for each of the 3 years. P Limited's cost of capital remains at 10%.

The directors are confident about the accuracy of their forecast for annual payments. They are not confident about their forecast for annual receipts.

(f) Calculate the annual receipts which give a zero NPV for Machine Z. [3]
