MARK SCHEME

Maximum Mark: 100

---

Published

This mark scheme is published as an aid to teachers and candidates, to indicate the requirements of the examination. It shows the basis on which Examiners were instructed to award marks. It does not indicate the details of the discussions that took place at an Examiners' meeting before marking began, which would have considered the acceptability of alternative answers.

Mark schemes should be read in conjunction with the question paper and the Principal Examiner Report for Teachers.

Cambridge International will not enter into discussions about these mark schemes.

Cambridge International is publishing the mark schemes for the March 2019 series for most Cambridge IGCSE™, Cambridge International A and AS Level components and some Cambridge O Level components.

This document consists of 19 printed pages.

Generic Marking Principles

These general marking principles must be applied by all examiners when marking candidate answers. They should be applied alongside the specific content of the mark scheme or generic level descriptors for a question. Each question paper and mark scheme will also comply with these marking principles.

GENERIC MARKING PRINCIPLE 1:

Marks must be awarded in line with:

- the specific content of the mark scheme or the generic level descriptors for the question
- the specific skills defined in the mark scheme or in the generic level descriptors for the question
- the standard of response required by a candidate as exemplified by the standardisation scripts.

GENERIC MARKING PRINCIPLE 2:

Marks awarded are always whole marks (not half marks, or other fractions).

GENERIC MARKING PRINCIPLE 3:

Marks must be awarded positively:

- marks are awarded for correct/valid answers, as defined in the mark scheme. However, credit is given for valid answers which go beyond the scope of the syllabus and mark scheme, referring to your Team Leader as appropriate
- marks are awarded when candidates clearly demonstrate what they know and can do
- marks are not deducted for errors
- marks are not deducted for omissions
- answers should only be judged on the quality of spelling, punctuation and grammar when these features are specifically assessed by the question as indicated by the mark scheme. The meaning, however, should be unambiguous.

GENERIC MARKING PRINCIPLE 4:

Rules must be applied consistently e.g. in situations where candidates have not followed instructions or in the application of generic level descriptors.

GENERIC MARKING PRINCIPLE 5:

Marks should be awarded using the full range of marks defined in the mark scheme for the question (however; the use of the full mark range may be limited according to the quality of the candidate responses seen).

GENERIC MARKING PRINCIPLE 6:

Marks awarded are based solely on the requirements as defined in the mark scheme. Marks should not be awarded with grade thresholds or grade descriptors in mind.

<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Definition: predicting future sales and sales trends</li> <li>• Although not in the syllabus candidates may refer to methods such as Delphi method; sales-force composite; jury of experts</li> <li>• Sales forecasting using Time Series Analysis takes account of seasonal variations and gives a realistic prediction.</li> <li>• Forecasting enables planning</li> <li>• How forecasts contribute to market planning</li> </ul>
Application
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• PY faces clear seasonal variation and consistent past trends so it is reasonable to assume that the future will be similar, making forecasting valuable for planning.</li> <li>• Case indicates possible changes to the market – market increasingly saturated; growth of competitor and the negative publicity</li> </ul>
Analysis
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Identification of seasonal variation may inform PY decisions regarding marketing mix during different times of year. For example may encourage changes to pricing tactics in off season to boost sales.</li> <li>• Knowledge of forecast sales can be used to adjust marketing strategy in the future. Altering the level of promotional expenditure for example if there is a dip in sales projected.</li> <li>• Other factors will also be significant in determining the marketing mix. For example, decisions of competitors such as Blue Berry – if they increase promotional expenditure it may be necessary for PY to respond with their own campaigns to maintain sales.</li> <li>• Important to also analyse why trends may be changing as part of the process of making marketing decisions</li> </ul>
